

Let the broadcasters improve their service and stay out of my satellite service. What is this country coming to? The consumer has the right to choose which service he or she prefers or have we lost that right too?